Farmingville, NY - Councilman Steve Fiore-Rosenfeld is pleased to highlight the Substance Abuse Task Force established more than three years ago by the Comsewogue School District Board of Education. In an effort to address the wide variety of issues confronting adolescents and families, the name of the Task Force has been changed to the Comsewogue Coalition for a Safe Community to indicate the broader focus of the group.

With the current increase in drug use by our youth, the need to educate parents is greater than ever. The mission of the Task Force is to raise the consciousness of students, parents, school personnel, and the community with the goal of reducing and ultimately preventing the use of alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs. Programs will be aimed at providing families with the resources and the best information available to support their efforts to help keep their children and the community safe in every way.

The next workshop, "Protecting Children - Empowering Parents," will be held on April 14 at 7:00 PM at the John F. Kennedy Middle School Auditorium on Jayne Boulevard. Click here for more information.
