Farmingville, NY - Brookhaven Town Supervisor Mark Lesko has announced that the Town of Brookhaven's Youth Bureau and the Brookhaven Youth Board are seeking nominations for individuals and groups who deserve recognition for volunteer work with Brookhaven's young people. The honorees will be recognized at the Bureau’s Thirtieth Annual Volunteer Awards ceremony May 25, 2010.

According to Supervisor Lesko, "For the past 29 years Brookhaven has been holding Volunteer Awards Night, and the Youth Bureau has recognized over 400 individuals and groups for the time, energy, and resources they have devoted to assisting our young people. If you believe you know someone who should be recognized for his or her efforts, either individually or as a group, please call or write to the Youth Bureau for a nomination form."

"Volunteers in every community of the Town work tirelessly throughout the year, without asking for anything in return. This is our way of recognizing their hard work, efforts, and all they do for us," added Councilwoman Kathleen Walsh Town liaison to the Division of Youth Services.

Requests for forms are now being accepted. The form must be returned to the Youth Bureau by April 26, 2010. Call the Youth Bureau at 631-451-8011, download the form off the Town Website by clicking here, or write to:
