Farmingville, NY - On March 14, Supervisor Romaine, Councilwoman Connie Kepert, and Councilman Foley attended the Medford Volunteer Ambulance Company’s Annual Installation Dinner at East Wind in Wading River. At the ceremony, Supervisor Romaine and the Councilmembers presented proclamations from the Brookhaven Town Board to those being honored, including:

Incoming Chief - Bryan Easop
Incoming 1st Asst. Chief - Clemente Ragazzini
Incoming 2nd Asst. Chief - Christopher Polak
Incoming Secretary - Stephanie Hannan
Incoming Director - Jonathan Cade
Incoming Director - Steven Blum

Supervisor Romaine said, "These men and women are called on every day to save lives and it is my honor to thank them for their service. They will leave their homes and families at any hour, day and night to help their neighbors and they should know that their work is greatly appreciated by all."

"Medford Volunteer Ambulance Company celebrated its thirty-sixth year of service last night," stated Councilwoman Connie Kepert. "The company consists of a dedicated group of volunteers who are always there to answer the call. Thank you to all of Medford’s volunteers and congratulations to all who were recognized at this event!"

Councilman Foley said, "Volunteers are the backbone of our first responders and I commend the members of the Medford Ambulance Company for the sacrifices they make every day. We are grateful for their community service and honor their commitment to save lives."
