In the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy, Councilwoman Kepert toured the 4th Council District with Public Safety Officers to survey the damage from Hurricane Sandy. "As I toured the 4th District reporting trees and wires down from Bellport on the Bay to Middle Island and Ridge in the north I witnessed first hand both the devastation of this storm and the resiliency of my neighbors and friends throughout Brookhaven. I would ask that you continue to watch out for each other. Check on elderly friends and those who may have special needs. Many are still without power, and it is getting cold. Also continue to monitor http://www.brookhaven.org/ for information on clean up and other important storm related information. Drivers also need to be aware that they should treat the intersections with traffic lights without power as a 4-way stop." stated Councilwoman Kepert.

While in Coram Councilwoman Kepert spent time with a resident who is caring for her husband who is on a ventilator. If you have someone in your household who has special needs and you need assistance please call 451-9000, or take them to the John J. Foley Health Center, 14 Glover Drive off of Yaphank Ave in Yaphank. "I want to thank all of our town employees who have worked so hard throughout this state of emergency," stated Councilwoman Kepert.
