Coram, NY - As the weather is getting crisper and leaves are changing colors, the Brookhaven Highway Department is continuing to complete paving projects and remove roads from its high priority list before temperatures drop to a level that will not be conducive for paving. This week a major paving project was completed in Port Jefferson Station as Chestnut Street, Pine Street, Comeswogue Court, Broadhurst Street and Wall Street are now newly paved.

"The Highway Department is continuing to work extremely efficiently in order to complete as many paving projects as possible this paving season," Superintendent Losquadro said. "I am proud of the work that has been done to this point and there are still many pavement improvement projects that will be completed before this season comes to an end."
