Superintendent Losquadro Completes Infrastructure Improvement Project in Farmingville
posted on 8/21/2014 5:25:47 PM

August 21, 2014

The Brookhaven Highway Department recently completed paving Granny Road in Farmingville. Tecumseh Elementary School and Sachem High School East are both located off of this roadway.

Farmingville, NY - Motorists and students will be experiencing a much smoother ride on Granny Road in Farmingville. As part of a major infrastructure improvement project, the Brookhaven Highway Department paved from County Road 83 to New York State Route 112. Both Sachem East High School and Tecumseh Elementary School are located directly off of this roadway, along with several large neighborhoods.

"This portion of Granny Road is used by thousands of motorists a day and connects two of the largest thoroughfares in Brookhaven," said Highway Superintendent Daniel P. Losquadro.

"I'm thrilled this portion of road has finally been paved," said Marlene Sabba of Farmingville. "I have lived in the neighborhood for more than forty years and this is the first time this area of Granny Road has been paved since I have been here. I want to thank Superintendent Losquadro for listening to my concerns and the concerns of our community."

"The roadway looks great, drives smoother and is an aesthetic improvement as well," said John Galligan, Assistant Principal at Sachem East High School. "It is a noticeable improvement. Having this project done over the summer with minimal bus traffic was very convenient and great planning when school was not in session."

Within the same time frame, crews also paved Old Medford Avenue from Horseblock Road to Granny Road and Independence Hill from South Bicycle Path to the west entrance of Sachem East High School. Additionally, South Bicycle Path was paved from Granny Road to County Route 83.

"In addition to improving the road surface, the Highway Department replaced curbing, sidewalks and ADA compliant pedestrian ramps in the area," Superintendent Losquadro said. "All of the roads involved in this project were restriped for better visibility, leading to improved motorists safety," he concluded.

Daniel P. Losquadro * Highway Superintendent
1140 Old Town Road • Coram • NY 11727 • Phone (631) 451-9200 • Fax (631) 732-2584