January 21, 2014

Coram, NY - After successfully handling all that Mother Nature has thrown Brookhaven’s way this season, Superintendent Daniel P. Losquadro is confident the Highway Department is ready for this snow event. The National Weather Service is calling for 8 to 12 inches of snow in Suffolk County between noon today and 6 a.m. tomorrow morning, along with wind gusts up to 40 miles per hour.

"My staff has remained in constant contact with our outside contractors in order to supplement the Department’s in house capabilities," Superintendent Losquadro said. "Additionally, we are working with Brookhaven Town Parks and Waste Management Departments to have their equipment positioned to be deployed."

Superintendent Losquadro is asking residents to remain off the roads, if possible.

"The fewer cars there are on the roadways, the easier it will be for the Highway Department to clear Town roads," Superintendent Losquadro said. "Also, residents should park cars inside their driveways to create a clear path for crews making their way through residential areas."

Daniel P. Losquadro * Highway Superintendent
1140 Old Town Road • Coram • NY 11727 • Phone (631) 451-9200 • Fax (631) 732-2584