BLUE POINT, NY - Brookhaven Town Supervisor Mark Lesko and Councilman Timothy Mazzei recently inspected the newly completed construction and renovations at Corey North Marina in Blue Point. The project, which normally would have cost an estimated $130,000, was completed for less than $75,000 because Parks Department employees, rather than a private contractor, performed all work. More than 850 feet of new decking was installed at the marina, along with new lighting and wooden guardrails. The marina also received all new water, electric and power stations, while new fencing and signage was installed at the park playground. New landscaping will of the park will be completed in the next several weeks.
