Farmingville, NY – On November 28, Councilwoman Jane Bonner was on hand to encourage the participants and distribute awards at the 5th Annual Mount Sinai Turkey Trot, hosted by the Mount Sinai Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) Club. The annual trot raises money for Holiday Magic, a not-for-profit organization that dedicates itself to making the holidays special for less fortunate children and their families. The Mount Sinai SADD club will purchase holiday gifts for 67 children, largely as a result of the participation at the annual 5K event.

“It was a beautiful day for a trot and I commend all those who participated and volunteered, especially the students from SADD. The holiday season is a difficult time for some families, but through the generosity of those who made donations, so many children will enjoy a Merry Christmas this year.”
