Rocky Point, NY - Residents in Rocky Point will be enjoying a smoother ride. The Brookhaven Highway Department recently completed a major paving project consisting of Broadway, Frances Path, Hallock Landing Road, Hallock Lane, Jonathans Path, Locust Drive, Noahs Path and University Drive.

"This project will have an extraordinary impact on the Rocky Point Community," said Daniel P. Losquadro, Brookhaven Town Superintendent of Highways. "It addresses roads that are the main arteries within the community as well as less traveled streets."

"For years, roads in this community have been neglected," Second District Councilwoman Jane Bonner said. "I am very happy that within a year of taking office Superintendent Losquadro has listened to the concerns of residents and paved these roads. As a Rocky Point resident and councilwoman, I want to thank the Highway Department for completing this work before the cold weather sets in. As we move forward, I look forward to continue working with Superintendent Losquadro for the benefit of our shared constituents."
