Farmingville, NY - Councilwoman Jane Bonner has announced that she will sponsor three events to be held at the Rose Caracappa Senior Center located at 739 Route 25A in Mount Sinai. The first event is the annual E-Waste Drive on Saturday, March 23 from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., when old electronics can be safely collected and then recycled. Residents are urged to bring the following items to be recycled:

- TV's • VCR & DVD players • Computer mice • Printers • Calculators • Hard Drives • Electronic Typewriters • Circuit boards • Projectors • Camcorders • Laptops • Power Supplies • Radios/Stereos • Servers • Backup batteries • PDAs • Mainframes • Pagers • Monitors • Routers • Telephones • Scanners • Cell phones • Answering machine • Hubs • Modems • Fax machines • Keyboards • Copiers • Cables • Gameboys & other hand held electronic toys

The second event, Councilwoman Bonner's Tax Grievance Seminar, will be held on Thursday, April 4 from 6:00 pm to 8:00 pm. Joining Councilwoman Bonner will be the Town's Tax Assessor James Ryan who will help residents understand the process and learn how they can grieve their property tax assessment.

Shed the Meds, an event co-sponsored by the Suffolk County Sheriff's Department will be held on Saturday, April 6 from 10:00 am to 1:00 pm. The public is encouraged to drop off unused medications, which will then be disposed of in an environmentally safe way by the Suffolk County Sheriff's Office. All pharmaceutical drop-offs are confidential, and no questions will be asked. By safely disposing of medications, residents will be protecting our drinking water from the contamination caused by pharmaceutical residues and ensuring that children, young adults and others will not have access to unused prescription medication and controlled substances. The Sheriff's Office will also safely dispose of covered hypodermic needles and syringes.
