Farmingville, NY - On December 5, Councilwoman Jane Bonner attended the Long Island Sharks Football Brunch at East Wind in Wading River where she presented certificates of appreciation to the organization's volunteers. The Long Island Sound Sharks Football Program is one of the largest on Long Island with over 800 children. Pictured with Councilwoman Bonner (back row, left) is the 10-year old Division with President of the LI Sharks Steve Malandrino (back row, right) who will retire this year after 15 years of volunteer service to the Long Island Sharks.

"The Long Island Sound Sharks are a great organization that promotes important values for our youth including good sportsmanship and teamwork," said Councilwoman Bonner. "I commend the volunteers for their service to the community and congratulate all the players for another successful season."
