"I commend these fine young men for achieving their goal to attain the rank of Eagle Scout. Their leadership qualities, hard work, and dedication to the community set a great example for all to follow," said Councilwoman Bonner.

Sean was honored for his work to coordinate, plan, purchase, construct and install a new bench for the Greenway Trails in Setauket; as well as assisting with the installation of 30 street signs at trail crossings. William was honored for his work to supervise, plan, build and install shelves for the Parish Resource Center in Rocky Point. The new shelves provide much needed space for storage and displaying items for sale that benefit the community. Daniel was honored for his work to supervise the building and installation of two octagonal shaped, wrap-around tree benches on the main lawn at the Town of Brookhaven's Longwood Estate in Ridge. He used pressure treated lumber so the benches will stand up to environmental decay. The benches will be put to good use as The Longwood Estate historical site attracts over 20,000 visitors each year.
