Farmingville, NY – On June 19, Councilwoman Valerie M. Cartright (third from right)) presented a Certificate of Congratulations to George Ellsworth Smith (center) at the ribbon cutting and grand opening of his new Edward Jones Investments office. Located at 97 F Main Street, the new full service investment firm is a welcome addition to Stony Brook Village.

"On behalf of the residents of Brookhaven Town, I congratulate George Ellsworth Smith and applaud this endeavor. We all join in wishing him great success assisting his clients in planning for and protecting their financial future," said Councilwoman Cartright.

The grand opening featured teas and scones from Robinson's Tea Room and a full gourmet lunch. In addition to Councilwoman Cartright, the ribbon cutting was attended by members of Three Village Chamber of Commerce, Gloria Rocchio, President of the Ward Melville Heritage Organization (second from right), professional associates and friends.

The team includes Senior Branch Office Administrator, Caren Goldstein and can be reached at 631-444-0179 or www.edwardjones.com/george-smith .
