Farmingville, NY – On October 20 and October 21, Councilwoman Valerie M. Cartright (center) celebrated Homecoming with the Comsewogue Warriors. The fun-filled events included the Friday night bonfire at the high school (left) which rounded out Spirit Week for the students in the Comsewogue schools. On Saturday, Councilwoman Cartright was handing out candy in the Homecoming Parade and cheering along with big crowds on the parade route which ran from JFK Middle School to Comsewogue High School.

"I love the positive energy of our students and neighbors. Homecoming in our school district is unforgettable. We have stupendous athletic, academic and socially conscientious Warriors, some of whom have volunteered in my office," stated the Councilwoman. "Special thanks to the Comsewogue faculty and staff and the Terryville Fire Department for their work at the bonfire."
