Farmingville, NY – Recently, Councilwoman Valerie M. Cartright (left photo, right) attended the grand opening of TJ Maxx in Port Jefferson Station. The new store, off Nesconset Highway, is in the same shopping center as Staples. The TJX parent company emphasizes associates giving time to support their surrounding communities. TJX has multiple corporate initiatives to address the basic needs of those in poverty, educating and training at-risk young people, researching and caring for life-threatening illnesses, and advocating for the safety from domestic violence.

“We are pleased to welcome TJ Maxx to the Port Jefferson Station community and thankful to learn about the TJX philosophy of being a good corporate citizen and giving back to the communities in which they serve,” stated Councilwoman Cartright. TJ Maxx made that commitment evident by making a $10,000 contribution to the Kid’s Clubhouse Suffolk County during the Grand Opening.
