Farmingville, NY - On May 21st, Councilwoman Valerie M. Cartright visited Comsewogue High School to view the student art displays in the annual Art Show. The Art Show, which opened on Tuesday evening, features over one hundred individual projects including paintings, sculptures, photographs, and installation art.

"I was blown away by how talented the students are," said Councilwoman Cartright. "I am honored that the art department reached out to invite me to attend the show and to see how well Comsewogue High School provides its students with an opportunity to express themselves through art."

The participating students, in grades 9-12, are from arts classes taught by Arlene Soranno, Vincent Verdisco, Karen Verdisco, Matthew Brown, and Gina Melton.
