Holtsville, NY - Brookhaven Highway Superintendent Daniel P. Losquadro and Councilman Kevin LaValle are partnering with the Education & Assistance Corporation and the Selden Fire Department to hold a free child passenger safety seat event on Saturday, August 2nd at the Selden Fire Department. Certified technicians will check to see if residents have their child's car seats installed correctly. Technicians will also teach parents and guardians how to properly install these seats, while providing essential information about child passenger safety. When installed correctly, child safety seats can greatly reduce serious or fatal injuries.

"This event is scheduled on a Saturday to make it more convenient for working parents and guardians," said Daniel P. Losquadro, Superintendent of Highways. "I want to thank the Selden Fire Department, Education & Assistance Corporation, Councilman Kevin LaValle and the employees at the Highway Department for working collectively to organize this important event."

"I am proud to co-sponsor this event with Superintendent Losquadro," said Councilman Kevin LaValle, who serves as Town Board Liaison to the Highway Department. "A car safety seat that is used properly can save a child's life in the event of an accident and I urge all parents to take advantage of this opportunity on August 2nd."

The financing for the initiative is provided by Governor Cuomo's Traffic Safety Committee to fund road safety programs for local children. Through the grant, a limited number of seats will be available for qualifying Brookhaven residents.

The free Child Passenger Safety Program will take place Saturday, August 2nd from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Selden Fire Department, located at 44 Woodmere Place in Selden. Inspections are by appointment only. To schedule an inspection, please call 631-363-3770.
