Farmingville, NY – Brookhaven Town Councilman Dan Panico (third from left) recently joined New York State Senator Tom Croci (center) and New York State Assemblyman Dean Murray (left) in welcoming Louis Fata (second from left) to his newly renovated home in Mastic Beach. Mr. Fata was the victim of a robbery assault some 20 years ago that left him unable to walk. After two decades of moving from apartment to apartment, Fata learned about Habitat for Humanity and its home ownership programs, and on December 15th, was handed the keys to his first-ever house, which was outfitted with handicapped ramps, a special shower and appliances.
