Ocean Beaches at Davis Park and Great Gun remain "Red Flagged" due to strong rip currents

Farmingville, NY – The Suffolk County Department of Health Services has announced that the Town's Shirley Beach is closed for bathing due to poor water quality. In addition, the Town's ocean beaches at Davis Park and Great Gun remain "red flagged," warning that swimmers entering the water are doing it at their own risk. There continues to be a threat of strong rip currents in the ocean, creating a hazard for swimmers. This will be in effect until further notice. All other Town beaches are open.
