Farmingville, NY – On March 5, Councilman Michael Loguercio (pictured) visited Ridge Elementary School as part of their week-long celebration of Dr. Seuss. The Councilman was asked to read one of his favorite books to a few of the students and he chose, “One Fish, Two Fish, Red Fish, Blue Fish”. Other students at the school were provided the opportunity to see it broadcasted on smart boards in every classroom. Each year at the beginning of March, schools across the country kick-off “National Reading Month” by celebrating the birthday of Dr. Seuss (March 2).

Councilman Loguercio said, “Reading to children is one of my favorite things to do and I’ve been a huge fan of Dr. Seuss since I was young. Dr. Seuss said, ‘You’re never too old, too whacky, too wild, to pick up a book and read to a child’ and I couldn’t agree with him more.”
