Supervisor Romaine said, "Law Day is a great event for the students and I thank the Eastport South Manor High School for inviting us every year. I am always impressed with the questions and happy to share my knowledge and experience with the students."

"I look forward to ESM Law Day every year and thank the Eastport-South Manor School District for providing this opportunity for their graduating class as well as for the elected officials who attend. I wish the graduating class the very best of luck in the future."
