Farmingville, NY - On Friday, July 11, Councilman Dan Panico participated in the charity softball game between the Wounded Warriors Amputee Softball Team and the Suffolk Sports Hall of Fame at the Moriches Athletic Complex.

"I salute every single member of the Wounded Warrior's and every veteran who serves or who has served this great country," commented Councilman Panico. "These young men represent everything that is good and just about America and their resiliency after dealing with the loss of their limbs in combat is nothing short of remarkable. They have managed to find light where many would find darkness because of their strength, the same strength that makes this country strong. The best part of the game, which they won, was afterwards when all of the kids and spectators came up to say thank you, get an autograph and photo with them - their very presence reaffirmed what America is all about."
