Farmingville, NY – On December 19, Supervisor Ed Romaine (right) and Councilman Neil Foley (third from left) led the grand opening celebration of the newly constructed Blue Point Preserve located on Maple Avenue in Blue Point. The new passive park was constructed by the Town on a 20 acre site that was formerly occupied by a nursery, but had been vacant for many years. The park includes a walking path throughout, benches and a pergola. Former Councilman Tim Mazzei (second from left), who spearheaded the project while in office, shared the honor of cutting the ribbon with Councilman Foley. Also in attendance were Patchogue Village Mayor Paul Pontieri (left), Ed Silsbe from the Blue Point Community Civic Association and Bob Draffin from the Bayport Civic Association (third and fourth from right).
