Farmingville, NY - On December 7, 2013, Supervisor Ed Romaine and Deputy Supervisor/Councilman Dan Panico participated in the official opening and ribbon cutting of the new 7-Eleven store in Center Moriches.

The grand opening of the new 7-Eleven store in Center Moriches marks the third store for Richard and Mary Ann Santonocito. The couple franchised their first 7-Eleven store in 1981 in Westhampton Beach and chose a second store in Center Moriches 10 years later.

The Santonocitos have been very involved with the Suffolk community. Richard serves on the board of Camp-Pa-Qua-Tuck, a camp for special-needs children. He also has held a number of positions in various community organizations such as the East End Little League, Kiwanis and Rotary.

The 7-Eleven Stores are extremely community oriented and offer a variety of programs in our area. Some of the programs are:

Operation Chill
Building positive relations between law enforcement and youth, 7-Eleven donates free Slurpee Coupons to local, New York law enforcement agencies through Operation Chill. The program allows police to "ticket" kids for good behavior.

Project A-Game
Project A-Game is a new way 7-Eleven stores give back to their communities. Created to promote youth well-being and establish a strong foundation for the next generation, stores can apply for a Project A-Game grant ranging from $200 - $500 to sponsor a local school or youth sports team. The grants may be used for initiatives that support youth development through academic and athletic programs. The program, jointly funded by local franchisees and the company, is just rolling out in New York, with plans to expand in 2014.

Through 7-Eleven's signature charity canister program, over the past 3 years, New York Franchisees have raised
