Farmingville, NY - October 7, 2013 Councilman Panico (left), Superintendent Daniel P. Losquadro (center) and Supervisor Ed Romaine (right) survey the commencement of the reconstruction and paving of the Center Moriches Municipal Parking Lots beginning on the north side and then south side of Main Street in Center Moriches.

The goal is to have this project completed by the 10th of October, weather permitting. This is the latest of Councilman Dan Panico's continuing effort to revitalize downtown Center Moriches, working closely with Supervisor Ed Romaine and Highway Superintendent Daniel P. Losquadro.

"The reconstruction of these municipal parking lots is another important step in the revitalization of downtown Center Moriches. I am very pleased with the progress we have made thus far and thank the local community, civic association, and Chamber of Commerce for their support. I would also like to thank Highway Superintendent Daniel P. Losquadro for assisting me to ensure that this work was done. He has been a great partner in this effort," commented Councilman Panico.

"Safe and convenient parking is a must for our downtown business district to succeed and I commend Councilman Panico and Superintendent of Highways Losquadro for working so quickly to move this project along," said Supervisor Romaine. "I expect that once it's complete, people who are doing business in Center Moriches will make good use of this parking lot."

"These parking lots in Center Moriches are critical to commerce for our small businesses, which is why I prioritized them in my plan of work for this year. Working with Councilman Panico and Supervisor Romaine, we have corrected a problem that has existed for many years," said Highway Superintendent Daniel P. Losquadro.
