Farmingville, NY - At the January 22 Town Board meeting, Supervisor Ed Romaine and the Town Council presented a proclamation to Lisa Mulligan, the Town's Director of Economic Development and CEO of the Industrial Development Agency (IDA) for being named one of the "40 Under 40" by Long Island Business News (LIBN).

"Lisa is well deserving of this honor by the Long Island Business News," said Supervisor Romaine, who also serves as the Town Board Liaison to Economic Development, "Since she has been with the Town, Lisa has proven her value as someone who is dedicated to promoting Brookhaven as a great place to do business and I commend her for the work she does to help create jobs for our workforce."

Each year, LIBN names their "40 Under 40" to recognize outstanding members of the Long Island business community under the age of 40. Nominees are from the business, government, education and the not-for-profit sector. According the LIBN, "they have a proven track record of career success, are involved in mentoring and promoting their profession and find time to give back to their communities."
