Farmingville, NY – On September 10, Supervisor Ed Romaine (left) and Councilman Neil Foley (right) attended the flag raising ceremony for the new Brookhaven Memorial Hospital Knapp Cardiac Care Center. Affiliated with the Heart and Vascular Institute at Winthrop-University Hospital, the center brings Winthrop’s renowned cardiac team to the center, providing the most advanced expertise to patients with cardiovascular disease. The Knapp Cardiac Care Center provides a full range of high-quality cardiac diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation services for patients with such heart problems as:

- Coronary artery disease with plaques and clots increasing the heart attack risk.
- Heart valve disease causing narrow or leaky or diseased valves.
- Heart muscle weakness.
- Infections that can affect the heart or the heart valves.
- Blood clots that form inside the heart chamber increasing the risk of stroke.
