Farmingville, NY - Brookhaven Town Councilman Dan Panico was recently on hand to thank the Bruno Family for their donation of fresh produce to help feed hungry families in need. The Bruno family runs and operates Lenny Bruno Farms on Wading River Road in Manorville.

"I want to thank the Bruno family for all that they do for our community and specifically for this donation of fresh food for those who truly need it," commented Brookhaven Town Councilman Dan Panico. "So many people during these tough times are going without and have to make use of food pantries and assistance. This generous gift will undoubtedly give the gift of nutrition and will certainly put a smile on the face of a family in need."
