Farmingville, NY - Recently, Brookhaven Town Councilman Dan Panico presented William Floyd Alumni Association President Jon Geraci and William Floyd School Superintendent Dr. Paul Casciano with a check for $4,550.00 to help defray the construction costs of the Armed Forces Veteran's Memorial.

"As the Town Councilman for the area and as a proud William Floyd graduate, I was deeply disturbed when I heard that the William Floyd Alumni Association was in debt because of the non-payment of monies that were guaranteed but never received for the construction of this veteran's memorial." commented Brookhaven Town Councilman Dan Panico. "Honoring our veterans and all those who answer the call to protect our freedom and liberties is the responsibility of American citizenry. For some people, who shall remain nameless, to promise and assure the school district money for such a cause and then yank the funding because of the outcome of an election is morally reprehensible conduct. I am pleased that I was able to provide a portion of the $25,000 that was needed and promised from the Caithness Community Benefit Fund."

"Councilman Panico is a man of his word. He said he would try to secure funds to complete our project and he followed through with flying colors. Now we have completed our Armed Forces Memorial which is a fitting tribute to all those from our community who served our country and particularly those who made the ultimate sacrifice." Said Paul Casciano, Superintendent, William Floyd School District.

The Caithness Community Benefit fund utilizes a set amount of non-taxpayer funding for community projects within the area that was defined before the construction of Caithness Clean Energy Power Plant.
