Farmingville, NY - Sixth District Councilman Daniel Panico will hold five more Informational Demonstrations of the new ImageScan voting machines which were first put in use in Suffolk County on Primary Day, September 14, 2010. Representatives from the Suffolk County Board of Elections will be available at each event to show residents how the new voting machines work and give them the opportunity for a hands-on demonstration. The Voter Outreach events are open to all residents.

"It's important that voters familiarize themselves and feel comfortable with the new voting machines before November 2nd," said Councilman Panico. "They are very different from the mechanical machines that were in use for many years and we want to avoid any problems or confusion on Election Day."

The first Voter Outreach event was held on September 22 at the Mastic Beach Fire Department. The upcoming Voter Outreach events will be held at the following locations:
