Farmingville, NY - Supervisor Ed Romaine hosted a press conference at the Rose Caracappa Senior Center in Mt. Sinai to announce the donation of 21 Google Nexus 7 tablets from the State of New York and Suffolk County. The donation is part of 17,000 tablets donated to New York State by Google. The tablets will also be available for use at the South Shore Nutrition Center at the Herkimer Recreation Center in Mastic. Also at the press conference were New York Secretary of State Cesar A. Perales and Suffolk County Executive Steve Bellone.

"I thank the Governor, Secretary of State and County Executive for making these tablets available to the Town of Brookhaven," said Supervisor Romaine. "When seniors learn to use the internet, it opens up a whole new world right at their fingertips, connecting them to family and friends with the click of a keystroke."
