Farmingville, NY – On September 23, Supervisor Ed Romaine (left) attended the Fall Equinox Celebration at the Washington Lodge in Brookhaven hamlet, sponsored by the Center for Environmental Education & Discovery (CEED). The event featured an earth science demonstration, children’s activities, music, dance and more. CEED is a non-profit initiative to bring nature connection and environmental education to the community. In June, the Art & Nature Group executed a license agreement with the Town to operate, manage and offer environmental education programs as a nature center at the property which includes an over 7,300 square foot historic house on two acres of grassland and woods located at 287 South Country Road in Brookhaven hamlet.
